The said Catalogue at the end of Nicomede was made by Franc. Kirk man stationer living in Thames = street London.

Mr {Kirkman / Cox} survival of our Oxford Scholars have read yr Catalogues of Plays (one at the end of Nicomede, & the other which is this by its self) and like them well, but would have liked them better had ye set down the yeare when they were printed, yt they might have known when the Authors lived, and wn the Plays came first in use. For without this they cannot be exact Judges of matters.
But they hope for the future yt ye will not omitt those matters, and that are not yet Extant
